MUSSOLINI MAY NOW TAKE UP GOLF ROGERS SURMISES

(Special To The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., Sept. 14.—Mussolini woke up Thursday, Sept. 14, felt tired and worn, so he gave up seven of his nine cabinet positions.

I wouldn't be surprised to see him become so indolent that he took up golf. All he is now is manager of the seven positions that he gave up and over here we take one cabinet job serious. Even the south got sore because Mr. Hoover didn't appoint one of them on his cabinet. He was mighty honest about it, though. He said there is lots of men down there big enough, but they are not smart enough to be Republicans.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A stroll down East Washington street this morning revealed that most straw hats have been laid aside for the fall. Dame Fashion does not foresee that they be stored away until tomorrow, the fifteenth, but just the same prevailing weather is such that folks feel ever so much better, so they wear felts.

"Hub" Hart, manager of the municipal golf course, said today that more women are visiting the links now. Thursday of this week was "Ladies' Day" as far as attendance was concerned. There were 28 ladies alone who played the course that day.

And speaking of the golf course, Hart said more caddies are needed. When the ladies were there this week it was a job collecting enough boys to accompany the players. There's plenty of work for all who care to caddy now, he says.

Pa News is neutral on this idea of night football at Franklin Field as sanctioned by the school board for the New Castle high school team this fall. Never having seen a night football game, it is a matter of waiting to see. This is probably the situation with regard to most all other individuals in this city. Pa News suspects.

There is still time to register for the fall election. The registrars are at the polling places in the city, this evening. If you have not, as yet registered, take advantage of the eleventh hour and qualify to vote.

The village of Leesburg is planning to celebrate on September 18. The Community club is arranging a jubilation in celebration of the opening of the concrete road to traffic, known as the Perry Highway. It certainly is a great day for the Leesburg district. This has been one of the sections that was hard hit when the weather got bad in winter and spring, prior to the construction of the new road.

There is an energetic lot of hospital workers on the streets today. Tags are being sold for the benefit of the maintenance fund of the New Castle hospital.

Because of some trouble with the electric power line somewhere, the post office was in darkness for half an hour or so, last night. Or at least it seemed a half hour to those left in the darkness.

Steady expansion of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad facilities at the local junction is pleasing news to New Castle. The New Castle yards are among the most important ones in the great B. & O. System, and some 1300 men are now employed here on this road. It is learned, New Castleites fail to appreciate the importance of the city as a railroad centre. Pa News often reflects.

Continued rains of the past few days are beginning to have their effect on the stage of the local streams. The Shenando River which has been slowly rising during the past week, jumped four-tenths of a foot yesterday.

Weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning, furnished by U. S. Weather Observer, E. F. Johnson at the New Castle Water Co. pump station, follows: Maximum temperature, 71. Minimum temperature, 58. Precipitation, .30 inches. River stage, 3.9 feet and rising.

Will Honor Memory Of General Pulaski

With about 100 representatives of patriotic, fraternal and religious societies present in St. Michael's hall Friday evening, Sept. 13, plans were started for the observance here of the 150th anniversary of the death of General Casimir Pulaski, Polish hero who gave his life for the American colonies.

The men and women gathered represented not alone the Polish organizations, but such other organizations as the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the American Legion, the Chamber of Commerce and others.

The meeting was called to order by Frank F. Golis and a temporary chairman for the evening was selected. Bart Richards was named temporary chairman and the business of building an organization and of drafting plans got under way.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—While hundreds of deputies and special officers guarded places of registration here today, thousands of citizens turned out to place their names on the registration lists for the primary election next Tuesday. Today was the last opportunity to register.

The special guards were stationed as a precaution against any serious outbreaks that might characterize registration today as the result of the series of charges of fraudulent assessment and registration that have permeated the contest for the Republican mayoralty nomination here during the last week.

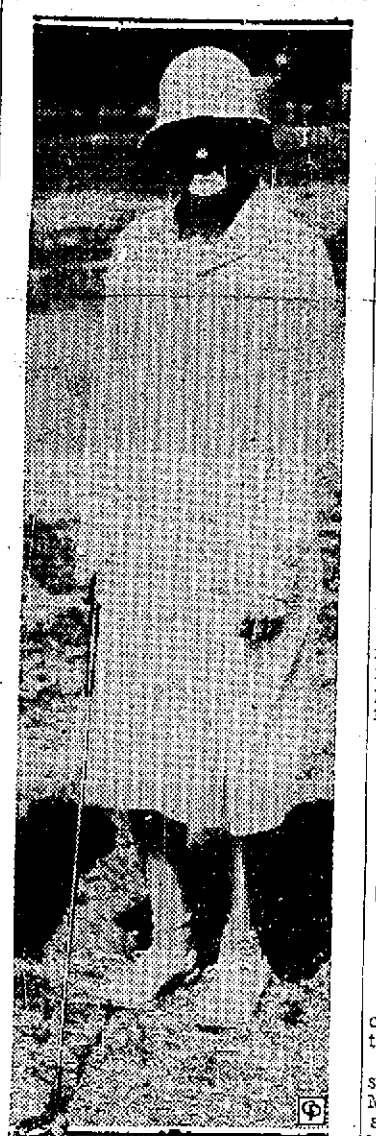

That there was specific evidence of phantom assessment and illegal registration of voters who did not exist at addresses in the records was disclosed in the preliminary report of the Allegheny county grand jury to Judge Harry H. Rowland late yesterday.

Precipitated by the charges of supporters of James F. Malone, one of the three candidates seeking nomination for mayor on the Republican ticket, the assertion of widespread irregularities spread throughout the camps of Mayor Charles H. Kline and Judge Richard W. Martin, the other candidates. Charges and counter charges resulted in the grand jury being summoned to investigate alleged fraudulent assessment and registration.

Qualify For Primaries
On Tuesday

As the minute hands on the old family clock make their round trip every hour, the time draws closer to the minute when Mr. and Mrs. New Castle will be unable to register for the primary on September 17.

Today is the last day for registration, the last opportunity to qualify for the high privilege of voting, and those voters who fail to register will be about as useful in naming the nominees of the two major parties as a man lost at sea.

Rush This Afternoon

The early hours of the day saw little interest in registration. This may be accounted for by the fact that housewives and working men were too busy with their daily duties to take the time. This excuse will not hold good this afternoon and certainly will not hold good this evening for the registration booths will be open from five p. m. to 11:00 p. m. Daylight Savings Time.

The selection of nominees for the general election is too vitally important to the welfare of Lawrence county to allow the stay-at-home decide the issue.

The matter of who you vote for is not the important thing today. It is important that you register. Important not alone now, but for the four years beginning January 1, 1930.

CHINA SENDS NEW NOTE TO MOSCOW GOVERNMENT

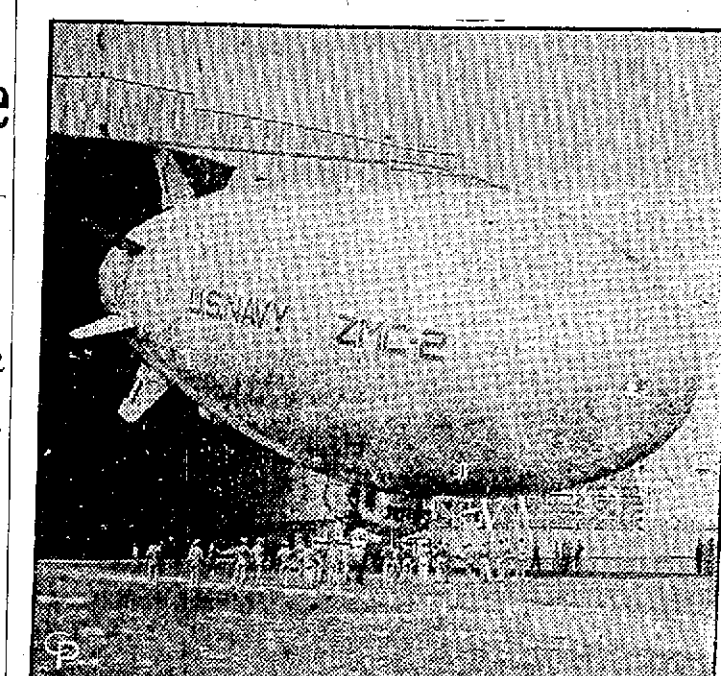

(International News Service)
RIGA, Sept. 14.—The Russo-Chinese situation was further complicated today by a new note from the Nanking government to Moscow, delivered through the medium of the German ambassador, in which China refused to assent to certain preliminary requests by the Soviets before the calling of a conference to arbitrate the dispute.

The most important point of the note was the refusal of China to agree to the recent Soviet proposal to replace the present Chinese chairman of the board of directors of the Chinese Eastern railway and to approve a new manager.

The Nanking government stated that China cannot agree to appointment of a new manager as a preliminary to negotiations, and suggested that a conference be called immediately to decide all questions at issue between the two nations.

China suggested that the meeting be held in Berlin at the earliest possible date. No indication has yet been given as to the Soviet attitude toward this proposal. It was understood that Russia regarded appointment of a new manager as a necessary prelude to the conference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The suggestion of France and England that world tariff revisions be postponed for the two years fell upon deaf Republican ears today as administration leaders pushed the senate toward enactment of their new tariff bill.

The flood of oratory that swept the senate for four days in defense and criticism of the new measure has given way to consideration of the minor legislative and administrative features—including organization of the tariff commission, the flexible tariff provision and the question of valuations—was postponed until next week.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—It was understood here this afternoon that official invitations for a five power naval limitation conference will be sent from London and that the proposed parley will be held in this city.

Premier MacDonald is closely studying the admiralty's reaction to the Anglo-American discussions. Well informed circles believe that in view of the cabinet's favorable reception of the Premier's report upon the status of negotiations, the admiralty will not attempt to press its demands "up to the hilt" or make too much open opposition.

As one official explained to International News Service: "If a conservative government had been in power the admiralty never would have consented to suppression of its demands. But it feels it would be a hopeless waste of time to try to go against an apparently United Labor government."

Capone Wanted As Racketeer Witness In Court In Indiana

"Scarface" Al Capone May Be Taken From Eastern Penitentiary To South Bend

CAN BE MOVED ON FEDERAL ORDER

By FRANCIS L. ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—Al Capone, Chicago gang chief, will leave the protective confines of Eastern penitentiary, if a federal order is presented, and return to testify at South Bend, Ind., in the racketeering investigation there, it was learned today.

Commenting on dispatches from Chicago that the south side beer baron would be called before the northern Indiana federal grand jury, Warden Herbert Smith told International News Service today Capone will be turned over to federal authorities if the request is made.

It was reported among friends of Capone here today that he will face plenty of trouble if he is returned from Eastern penitentiary, where he is serving a one year sentence for carrying concealed weapons. Warden Smith admitted hearing reports that attempts to "get" "Scarface Al" would be made.

May Be Paroled.

Even if he is not returned to Chicago, the gang chief may be freed by legal action in November, it was learned.

"Al" has been here two months now, and it is reported his friends will make an attempt to free him in November," Warden Smith said. "His term ordinarily would run seven months more."

"There seems to be no hard feeling among prisoners here toward Capone and I don't think there is anything at all to the report he was transferred here from Holmsburg prison because other prisoners there had it in for him."

"Capone is rather a model prisoner. He doesn't go out much, and he never talks except through his attorney. He walks around a bit, but he doesn't mix with other prisoners."

"Since he came here Capone hasn't caused us any trouble at all. Nor has he caused any particular stir among the prisoners."

The gang leader is an inmate of the block of the prison satirically dubbed "Park avenue."

One of the members of the Pa. Newc family performed a regular Boy Scout good turn for a young lady the other day. In coming down the stairs of the Temple building, her heels caught and both of them were torn loose. She was having a difficult time in getting them back on again, and he nobly aided her in the task.

While Pa. Newc is not an engineer, it is his opinion that some of the concrete streets about the city should be given a little attention before freezing weather. Cracks should be covered with pitch or some substance so that the frost will not get in Pa. Newc opinos.

Construction of the new overhead bridge near Cascade park appears to be about completed. The detour is still in use however. Bids have been taken for the third time by the state for this work the most recent being opened yesterday.

FIVE POWER NAVAL CONFERENCE WILL OCCUR IN LONDON

are already in general agreement concerning the program but the complete success of the undertaking is dependent upon the willingness of the other powers, Japan, France, and Italy, to go along and this will be determined in the five-power conference to be called early in December.

The program contemplates no sensational scrapping of ships such as characterized the memorable Washington Conference of 1921.

"Let them rust out and then not replace them," apparently is the guiding principle which President Hoover and Premier MacDonald have agreed upon.

Equal By 1936

By 1936, with the retirement of ships that become obsolete, the British and American navies will be for practical purposes equal by categories. That is, dreadnaught for dreadnaught, cruiser for cruiser, submarine for submarine, etc. Britain's superiority in cruiser tonnage will be off-set by American superiority in the gun-power of her newer cruisers.

Under the program agreed upon, the United States will complete the 15-cruiser program which congress authorized last year, to cost some $270,000,000, and which President Hoover had hoped to avoid.

To Build Cruisers

British insistence, however, upon at least 340,000 tons of cruiser strength as the irreducible minimum required for empire safety, made it impossible to realize this hope, and the cruisers therefore will be constructed. At least thirteen of them will be of the 10,000-ton type mounting 8-inch guns.

The real reduction will be obtained in capital ships according to all indications. Two years from now in 1931, the powers can begin replacement of their old ships under the Washington naval treaty. At the forthcoming December conference the aim will be to obtain agreement not only to extend the life of these ships but not to replace them as they finally reach obsolescence.

A "house of art" will be established in Montevideo, Uruguay, in which symphonies, concerts, choruses and motion pictures will be held.

EUROPEAN PROPOSAL CONCERNING TARIFF FALL ON DEAF EARS

in world tariffs for the next two years meanwhile will find little sympathy in Republican organization circles. In making their suggestion, France and England proposed that the negotiations might be carried on through the world court. This alone would lessen the chances for American cooperation even if there were no economic objections.

Republican leaders pointed out that the American tariff is enacted to protect American manufacturers, workers and farmers against cheap foreign imports. To allow the wishes of foreign nations to govern the amount or extent of protection, they added, would defeat the very purpose of the tariff.

Democratic spokesmen, however, suggested the European anti-tariff move was indicative to world opinion to high American tariffs. They said it was strange that at a time when America is more prosperous than any other nation in the world, it should undertake to raise even higher tariff barriers against the goods of other countries.

Democrats Score "Jokers"

The Democrats, through Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, also charged there were "jokers" in the new bill, which would establish embargoes and prohibitions against certain imports. He declared these "jokers" were violative of the pending treaty, abolishing all import and export prohibitions. Harrison cited one example, a provision dealing with heavy window-glass. He said this provision would force importers to expend more money in transporting their glass into this country than the tariff due on the glass. Such a provision, he added, was an embargo.

The import and export treaty meanwhile rested with the senate foreign relations committee. It was drafted at Geneva in 1927 and 1928 and a score of nations including the United States, pledged themselves to abolish all restrictions and prohibitions on imports and exports. There were but a handful of exceptions, one of which exempted American prohibition from the terms of the treaty. It was sent to the senate by former President Coolidge last January but no action ever has been taken to ratify it.

TWO ATTRACTIVE SEPTEMBER STARS

Two very interesting stars make their appearance above the horizon of the eastern evening sky in September. One is Capella, far to the northeast, and the other is Fomalhaut, very low in the southeast. Capella is a yellow star of magnitude 0.2, closely resembling the sun, but has a brilliancy 150 times as great. It is a member of the constellation Auriga. The other star,

The project for which the contract was awarded today is situated in Muddy Creek, Slippery Rock, Scott, and Washington townships.

Hospital Fund Shows Increase

Workers Are Enthused—Scores Of Girls Selling Tags Today

Drive for the funds for the New Castle hospital is proving the success that it was hoped that it would be and it is anticipated by those in charge that the funds received will reach the hoped for total.

It will not be possible until some time next week to determine the total amount realized from the campaign but there is every indication that it will be quite a substantial amount when all in.

At the meeting of the workers held last night at the hospital, there was great enthusiasm, when it was reported that there had been raised in cash up until that time something over $5,000.

The solicitation is continuing today and in addition to that, scores of girls are selling tags in the principal parts of the city. Nearly everybody is wearing a tag and if the returns per tag are fairly good, quite a neat sum of money will have been realized in that manner.

of experts, technicians, negotiators or diplomats.

He will travel informally and he will visit informally and yet it appears that his meeting with President Hoover will set in motion one of the greatest actual moves toward naval disarmament as a guarantee for peace that he nations of the world have ever undertaken.

Accord Reached.

According to word passed about in official circles today official announcement in joint fashion by Great Britain and the United States will be made sometime next week to signify that agreement has been reached between the two naval powers of the world on the question of cruiser limitation.

This announcement, which originally was to have been made after the arrival of Premier MacDonald in Washington, will have the effect of dispatching the prime minister to America with his plans for a naval disarmament conference already a "fait accompli."

It will enable him to board the Berengario at Southampton on the 28th merely as a distinguished gentleman wishing to pay a call on another distinguished gentleman across the water. It will dissolve the necessity of Macdonald and Hoover haggling and dickering over technical points in stuffy official conferences at Washington.

THOUSANDS REGISTER IN PITTSBURGH TODAY

ous individuals alleged to be residing on parking lots, stone walls river wharves, vacant buildings, padlocked buildings and houses which have been torn down for several years and of persons who have been dead for several years and that the entering of these names on the assessment books or lists might result in fraudulent registration and later in the casting of fraudulent ballots," the report of the grand jury said. In part:

"We have found cases," the report continued, "where the same persons were assessed more than once, which, of course, might accomplish a like purpose."

"We have evidence that with a total of about 120,000 registrations to date in the city of Pittsburgh, there have been added within a few days prior to September 4, the last day for assessment, to the assessed lists in the city of Pittsburgh 20,000 or 25,000 names."

After presenting its report the grand jury was excused until Monday, definitely showing that there is no possibility for legal action to be completed before the election on Tuesday. When the jury reconvenes the registration records will be examined in an effort to detect any irregularities that might have occurred as stated in the charges emanating from the camps of the candidates.

Today

Russia Fights Religion.

Baltimore 200 Years Old.

Cheaper Cars Coming?

Mussolini Preparing.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

Russia's government, seeking to eliminate religion, is pleased with a murder trial proceeding in Kiev. The Archdeacon Vladimir Zekhone, of the important Kiev-Pecher-Skala Monastery, formerly a monk of the Greek church, is on trial for killing a 28-year-old nun, Barshnikova, described as "one of his mistresses."

Her body was cut up and thrown into a sewer.

On trial with the former monk is the former mother superior Varonkova, described as another of his mistresses, accused of assisting the younger woman's murder through jealousy.

The monk will probably be executed. Three thousand Soviet workers sit in court, that they may tell their fellows about "the scarlet women of Russia." Bolshevism's name for the church.

A monk of the Greek church may murder a nun, a banker may murder his cashier. But such occasional murders will not put an end to banking or religion.

Baltimore, planning to be the country's greatest airplane city, is celebrating its one hundred and fiftieth birthday with flags, speeches and warships, on water and in the air.

Two hundred years ago Thursday, the guns of Fort M'Henry kept the British fleet from descending on Baltimore. The Star Spangled Banner was written to celebrate that event.

Baltimore, 115 years old, is younger and more energetic than ever.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors, tells stockholders he bought "a substantial interest" in the Opel, great German automobile concern, to develop German manufacture of automobiles rather than supplant it with organization and methods entirely American.

This country depends largely on export of manufactured articles. It is, therefore, interesting to hear from Mr. Sloan that in Europe his company in 1928, in dollars and numbers of units, sold more automobiles than any European concern manufactured.

Mr. Sloan plans for Europeans the kind of car they want at a price they can afford. Not as rich as we, they do not demand so much luxury.

Mr. Sloan, Mr. Ford and others in this country, may need to produce here a cheaper car than any now offered.

General Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck plans a car for $200. Henry Ford years ago showed the writer a small, powerful engine made for a car to sell at $250. He probably has kept the plans for that product.

In his government, Mussolini held eight posts, minister of foreign affairs, marine colonies, war, aviation, etc.

Now, the powerful Italian resigns seven of his cabinet offices, remaining Premier and Minister of the Interior only.

The King announces the changes by royal decree. Mussolini told him what to announce.

The years are passing. Mussolini knows it, and seeks to build a government machine that will survive.

The Italian question is "after Mussolini, what?"

Lord Rothermere, in a signed article, asks Britain to give up the mandate, and withdraw from Jerusalem. He thinks Jews would prefer "a national home in the United States to patriarchal poverty in Palestine."

A majority of Jews do prefer such a home. There are only 2,000 American Jews among 160,000 in Palestine.

But for a minority there is a passionate desire to restore Jerusalem. It may not be understood by a Scotchman not interested in returning to Edinburgh. But a Frenchman who never loses the memory of Paris understands it.

Using his powerful newspapers trying to make Britain drop the mandate for Palestine and Iraq as "dangerous," Lord Rothermere says the British declaration involves no moral responsibility and was made, as a war measure, "to appeal to Zionist Jews, who were particularly strong in Germany and Austria."

He refers to the common sense which made the government of the United States flatly refuse a mandate for Armenia.

It is easy to become mixed in foreign affairs. Not so easy to get out.

In Panama, parents and government thought there was truth in anti-vaccination propaganda. Why vaccination when there is no smallpox, they asked.

Panama is vaccinating now. Its government appropriates $30,000 to check the spread of smallpox, now totaling 93 cases.

It must interest anti-vaccinationists to observe how frequently smallpox accompanies the notion that vaccination is "not necessary," or "barbarous."

Long, Long Ago.

In the early days a form of cruelty was to make hungry children wait for the second table.

"Absolutely" was a dandy word until a lot of people got in the habit of using it to emphasize their most unimportant statements.

GOLCONDA'S MINERALS.

Five years after the historic discovery of gold at Sutter's Mill, California, that state's gold production astounded the world by reaching the fabulous peak of $57,000,000 in one year.

Seventy-five years later, in 1928, that state's combined minerals yielded more than six times that amount, and aroused only passing comment, viewed in the light of present industrial development.

One of the three leading mineral states, California still is first in gold, producing over one-fourth of the nation's total. But other minerals, notably petroleum, have superseded it in dominance. The state now yields commercially fifty-eight different minerals, probably exceeding any other equal area in the world.

Cement production alone reached the value of $23,000,000 last year. There is a cement mountain at Riverside, not limestone—Cement!

MacDonald Stirs Interest In Basis For Armament Cut

British Premier Commended For Courage And Optimism But Many Americans Wonder If World Is Ready For Effective Action

Optimism on the part of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain as to the prospect of an effective agreement for armament reduction is commended, and he is also credited with courage in his stand against competition with the United States. His talk at Geneva has caused many Americans to examine the conditions back of his statement, and while he is believed to have encouraged the world, some doubt is expressed as to material change in the situation.

"Progress toward disarmament," says the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "is reduced to a mathematical formula by the Premier's speech. He hopes to reach an agreement with the United States on 20 points. On all but three of these he and President Hoover are in accord. But these three are the most difficult ones. Both Washington and London caution against letting expectation go too far. More definite character was given the negotiations by Mr. MacDonald's statement that Great Britain will not think of building against the United States." The News finds satisfaction in the fact that "the suspicion that has marked previous efforts has disappeared."

The ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT emphasizes the fact that the Premier "spoke in general terms on the negotiations with the United States when the special desire in this country is for information in such specific terms as will tell just what the plan will propose. That paper, however, concludes: 'Expectancy as to the provisions of the compact is increased. It would be a reproach if an agreement that seems to promise so much should fall because of a fractional disagreement as negligible as three-twentieths.'

"What the nations need," in the opinion of the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, "is the simultaneous leadership of men with a strong and compelling will to peace. Great Britain, the United States and France seem for the moment to have such leadership. Hoover and MacDonald give the impression of being more for the ultimate attainment of the object than of trying to outwit each other to gain an advantage for their respective countries. What two such purposeful men may be able to accomplish in an atmosphere of such sympathetic understanding stirs the imagination. Mr. MacDonald's great optimism may be entirely justified."

Doubt is expressed by the CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL, although it agrees that "the principle is admirable and one to inspire effort. There are many obstacles, continues that paper, 'to be overcome before the necessary agreement can be reached. . . . It becomes a question of each country's representatives looking after the interests of their own country. At this point rises also the fact that what is to the interest of one country is against the interests of some other country. The next question is which of these countries will make the necessary sacrifice; or does the difference in national interests permit of compromise.'

"As history shows," according to the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, "the best-laid plans of presidents and European statesmen 'gang all agley' in Congress—especially in the United States Senate. And it would be just as well for those who are working to lighten the burden of naval expenditures and reduce the possibility of war to keep this fact clearly in mind." The NEW ORLEANS ITEM adds: "The pleasant anticipations that might otherwise arise from Premier MacDonald's announcement that his government and ours are agreed on most of the principles affecting navy reductions are somewhat chilled by the persistence of the impressions derived from reports from Washington. For we read: 'President Hoover has progressed far enough in his navy disarmament negotiations with Prime Minister MacDonald to be satisfied that it will be necessary for the United States to build considerable additional cruiser tonnage. It is altogether possible that the United States will be obliged to build ships in other categories.' The paper says that once the navy expenses are likely to swell rather than to shrink."

The prediction is made by the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE that "when Mr. MacDonald's terms for limitation of the British sea power transpire, they will not give evidence that his government has failed to remember what the British navy has been and is worth to the British people."

Notwithstanding individual criticism, the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR says that "the whole American people greets with satisfaction the premier's statement that on all but three of the twenty points at issue between London and Washington agreement has already been attained. Two New Jersey Youths Die Gamely On Gallows At Moundsville, West Virginia

FILLING STATION AGENT WAS VICTIM

(International News Service)
MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Sept. 14.—Two Elizabeth, N. J., youths, escorted by grim faced guards, mounted 13 steps to the gallows at the West Virginia state prison here last night, on Friday the 13th, and plunged simultaneously to their deaths when the two traps were sprung at 8:44 eastern standard time.

The two young men who paid with their lives for killing Frank Bowen, Lens Creek filling station proprietor, last May, were Walter E. Willmot, 21, and Milard P. Morrison, 21. Just before the nooses were adjusted about the necks of the condemned pair, Warden L. M. Robinson asked them if they had anything to say before they met death. There was a moment of silence, then Morrison spoke up:

Just Goodbye.
"All I have to say is goodbye."
"That's all I have to say, too," cooed Willmot.

The nooses were quickly adjusted, the traps sprung and the bodies plunged into space. The fall was checked with a sickening jerk, and 12 minutes later the prison physician pronounced Willmot dead. A minute later he announced all life had left the body of Morrison.

The execution was advanced 15 minutes because the directions given the warden said the pair was to be hanged "between 3 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Friday the 13th."

Willmot wore a gladioli in the buttonhole of his coat, placed there by his 15-year-old wife who hitch-hiked all the way from New Jersey to be near her husband during his last hours.

THREE'S COMPANY

Peter, born and raised on a farm with no brothers nor sisters for companions, saved the life of an old Oak Tree and in gratitude receives a magic gift. He is able to understand the language of all living things, and when he wishes can grow as large or as little as the people of field and forest. So all the folk of the out-doors are his playmates. Peter is now on a visit to Meadowland. He has been a guest in Sam Spider's web, has fought by the side of Dawdler the Duke against three snails who marched against Beeville, stepped on a twig that talked and walked. Then riding through the night on the Moon-Moth express heads straight into adventure.

Peter was so angry he stamped his foot at Uncle Praying Mantis. "You're a wicked creature, that's what you are—eating up insects like yourself. Why, you admit that if you happen to fall out with one of your own family, you get square with him by robbing him up."

Until this time Uncle Praying Mantis had been laughing his fierce "ha ha's." Now it was his turn to grow furious.

"It doesn't make a particle of difference to me what you think. Who and what are you but a boy? And just for that I am going to turn my back upon you and leave you to yourself. For where I go, there my relatives will go also. Three's company, you know. And you're a crowd!"

It was plain to be seen that whatever Uncle Praying Mantis said, went with the Walking Sticks. Very likely they thought it was wise to keep on the right side of their cantal-ber uncle. Mrs. Walking Stick at once linked her twig-like arm into his. With a wink at Peter, Mr. Walking Stick followed suit and down the path through the leaves, backs stiff as poker, walked the three queer little people.

"Disagreeable old coger, even if he is a relative of mine!" I admit, struck that I'd have to have much to do with him myself, and I don't blame you a bit for not liking him! I never could understand why some insects are so hateful. Why can't all the little people of field and forest be friendly and pleasant to each other. They'd have a lot happier life!"

"Chirp, chirp! I'm just as happy as I can be. I like everybody and almost everybody likes me!" the cheerful voice came from behind a gray stone near the road. As Peter watched, a pair of long feelers appeared, and in the twinkling of an eye, an inquisitive little head peeped around the corner. Two bright eyes met his.

The stranger looked so merry and

Tense Situation At Gastonia, N. C.

State Militiamen Grouped Ready To Prevent Serious Outbreak If
Union Holds Meeting

NEWSPAPER HAS GIVEN WARNING

By HENRY LESENE
International News Service Staff
GASTONIA, N. C., Sept. 14.—The ominous calm that precedes a storm hovered early today over this battle-front of the communistic invasion of the new industrial south as Gastonia settled down to a period of watchful waiting until 3 p. m. when the National Textile Workers Union holds a mass meeting.

An anti-communistic mob, variously estimated at from two hundred to three hundred men, already has warned three N. T. W. U. organizers never to set foot again on Gaston County soil. The three men were kidnapped from a boarding house here Monday and one of them was taken to a nearby county and severely flogged.

Officials Alarmed
The Gastonia Gazette, the only newspaper in Gaston county, has warned the left wing labor element that if they attempt to stage today's scheduled rally they will be doing so at their own risk. The authorities were frankly alarmed and dared not hazard a guess as to what the day's developments will be.

The man in the street surveyed a maze of wild rumors ranging from reports that large groups of state militiamen were grouped in nearby towns in case of need to the report that large quantities of fire arms and ammunition have been smuggled into Gastonia within the past few days.

Regardless of the rumors, the fact remained that eight communists, including two of the three kidnapped organizers, are being held in Charlotte on a charge of conspiring to bring a cache of shotguns and shells into the city for Saturday's mass meeting. Their arrest followed the discovery of seven brand new shotguns and five hundred shells in their possession.

Raskob says the way to get rich is to invest your savings in industrial stocks. What about the cotton, cork-screw and hairpin industries?

To the Republican Voters of

I have endeavored to meet as many of you as possible during the past few weeks that you might decide by personal contact, together with what you have learned from reliable and un-biased sources, whether I possess the capacity, training, experience, industry and character that are so necessary in this most important office. I trust you will find that I possess these qualities. I was born a poor boy and have made my way through school and through life by my own toil and industry without any material assistance from friends and benefactors.

I have always been a Republican and a supporter of its principles and supported both Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover for President.

I believe that my seventeen years experience in the practice of law should be an important factor for your consideration. I am a believer in law enforcement and, if elected, will to the best of my ability perform the duties imposed by my oath of office.

I am very confident of my success next Tuesday and wish to thank all for the courteous treatment I have received during this campaign and especially my many friends for their kind efforts in my behalf.

I remain
Very sincerely yours,

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT ANSWERS MORE QUERIES

FOR OWNERS AND DRIVERS

Hundreds of queries are received daily by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles at Harrisburg, Pa., relating to the new rules and regulations governing the operation of motor vehicles. In the belief that the questions and their answers will solve problems which puzzle motorists in general, the Bureau has decided to publish a number of them in this newspaper each week. The information herein contained is, of course, official.

A. If I send a ten-cent special delivery stamp with my application for license plates, will it expedite shipment of the plates? (b) Will air mail stamps expedite shipment of tags? A. It will not. The postoffice department ruling is that the 15-cent stamp be used for special deliveries of this nature. This stamp includes special handling, although a "special handling" stamp may be bought for ten cents which will expedite the transfer of the tags to the postoffice. (b) Do not use air mail stamps for Pennsylvania shipments. They do not help a particle. They are all right for shipping to other states.

Q. On arterial highways I see the sign "Through Traffic Stop." Suppose I merely want to turn into the street instead of going clear through. Must I stop? A. The "Through Traffic" portion of this sign refers only to traffic on a through street—not that on a cross street. If you wish to avoid a fine, stop when you see one of these signs and ask questions afterward.

Q. If an owner of a car did not register his car in 1929, will he receive a renewal card for 1930? A. Under the motor code the owner will not be mailed a renewal application. He may obtain application upon request.

Q. For how many days may registration plates be used, if the owner transfers the plates from one car to another and makes affidavit that he applied immediately for transfer of the new plates to the new car? A. Twenty (20) days.

Q. Are registration plates transferable from one person to another? A. No.

Q. On what basis is the fee for registration of a commercial truck other than an electric truck computed? A. Gross weight of the chassis, as certified to by the manufacturer.

Q. Must a traction engine be equipped with headlights? (b) Are acetylene headlights approved? (c) Must a motorcycle be equipped with one or two headlights? A. Not less than two (2) front headlights and a red light in the rear. (b) They are legal for use when of a type provided for by section 804 of the motor code. (c) At least one.

Q. Will you accept the signature of a mother or father when they sign for a minor? A. No, return application for signature of the boy or girl who owns the car.

Q. In which class is a town car registered? (b) Station wagon, (c) suburban.

Big Coal Company Approves Plans To Acquire Railroad

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—As the principal shipper on the Buffalo, Rochester, and Pittsburgh railroad company the Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal Co. told the Interstate Commerce Commission today that the proposed acquisition of control of that road by the Baltimore and Ohio was in the interest of all shippers.

In a brief filed by August G. Gutheim, it was stated that "beyond what might perhaps be termed the narrow interest of these bituminous shippers, the intervenor urges that the evidence generally demonstrates that the public interest would be served by the definite allotment of control of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh now to the Baltimore and Ohio."

World's Largest Passenger Plane Makes Safe Trip

Thirty-Two Passenger Fokker Plane Makes Flight; Weighs Eleven And Half Tons

By DAVID P. SENTER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent
FOKKER FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 14.—The new 32 passenger Fokker plane, Prima Donna of the air made its debut today and flew like an angel.

I sat behind Lieut. Harry Johnson as he piloted the plane on its pioneer flight. For 25 minutes we flew at a height of about 600 feet over a score of air miles. It was like riding a bicycle. The eleven and a half ton machine took off as easily as a baby carriage. There was a slight vibration from the roaring of the "Hornet" engines.

The pilot on top of the work shut off two of the engines and the new heavyweight champion of the air tanked and climbed on half its power with remarkable ease.

Regarding sensations, there were no sensations. The ten passengers climbed in with the crew of two, sat down on comfortable cabin chairs, enjoyed the performance then glided to earth and stepped out.

This new plane brings additional flying glory to the United States. It is the largest plane in the world. There are larger planes equipped with pontoons. Its gross weight is 22,500 pounds of which 8,700 is total useful load. It has a passenger capacity of 32.

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 14.—Mrs. James E. Marshall, first president of the Butler Young Women's Christian Association and head of the institution for 12 years, announced that the directors had decided to launch, next May a campaign to raise funds for a new building.

Plans are not complete for the proposed structure, which will replace the present buildings in West Cunningham street, but it is expected that at least $300,000 will be required to construct the kind of building needed in the work of the association.

For more than 10 years the association has occupied a remodeled residence, which has been inadequate for the growing demand for services to young women and girls of the community.

Highland Pupils Have Fine Floral Exhibition

Beautiful Arrangement Of Flowers Exhibited At Flower Show Friday

Many Rare Varieties Are Brought By Pupils For School Flower Show

Flowers of all kinds and colors, many of them rare varieties filled one of the rooms completely at the flower show held by the Highland school pupils yesterday.

The exhibition which was arranged under the direction of Miss Pearl Hutchinson, teacher of nature study at the building was held as a part of the nature study work. It was aimed to teach the children the different varieties of flowers and also to show them how to arrange flowers to get the best effects from different combinations.

Very beautiful arrangement were made by the pupils some of whom showed remarkable ability along this line while the choice of blooms was also very exceptional.

Among the flowers exhibited was a rare night-blooming cereus which had bloomed several days ago and was almost closed again. This exhibit was brought by Dorothy Wallace. There was also a beautiful cactus flower brought by Eleanor Wallace and a magnificent red dahlia exhibited by Ella Bratschke.

Almost every known species of flower now in bloom was on exhibition there being a profusion of dahlias, gladioli, asters, roses and many other kinds.

One basket brought by Evelyn McMichael contained 71 different varieties of flowers while another brought by Jean Ramsey contained 42.

The judges of the show were the Misses Matilda Coley, Jean Jackson and Alma Locke.

Prizes for the best exhibits or arrangements were awarded the following pupils:

1B, Hugh Daly; 1A, Eleanor Wallace; 2B, Jack Elliott; 2A, Virginia Smith; 3B, John McKinley; 3A, Peggy Craig; 4B, Clara Belle Clark; 4A, Dorothy Porter; 5B, Rose Bartberg; 5A, Ella Bratschke; 6B, Ernest Schitzger; Jr., 6A, Mary Ellen Wray.

Special prizes were awarded to Dorothy Wallace, Janet Hartland and Eleanor Wallace.

The exhibition was really a most beautiful one and reflected much credit upon Miss Hutchinson and the pupils who contributed flowers for the show.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Before you do anything else, have you registered? You still have time to step over to the registration booth and get your name on the books, and if you haven't done so, you should. Tonight on the street corners and in the barber shops, in the stores and in the homes, the primary election of next Tuesday will be the chief topic of conversation. Who will win and why, and what the chances are for someone else will be threshed out, and probably the loudest talker will not be registered.

It usually is that way. Some of the most vilifying statements concerning candidates this year came from people who were not registered, and in our humble opinion the chap who doesn't take time enough to get registered, is speaking out of turn when he attempts to influence anyone as to his vote.

Who you vote for is your own business, the big thing today is to get registered.

Attended a most interesting meeting Friday evening. A joint committee composed of representatives of various fraternal, civic and patriotic organizations planned for a celebration on October 13, to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the death of Count Casimir Pulaski.

Keep the date in mind and plan to attend this anniversary. Pulaski is a name that is dear to the hearts of the American people. He was a subject of another country, but justice and freedom know no racial border lines.

This idea of night football has brought out some quaint ideas on the part of the boys in the back room. One of them suggests that there are larger possibilities for some one to help by turning out the lights just when a backfield man starts down with the ball.

Another bright youth wants to know if the terms of football will be changed to electric terms. For instance, "McSwivel advances the ball three kilowatts, on a forward light beam. The team gets penalized 15 volts for holding, and on the next play Gaezopus gains 25 amperes for his team when he kicks a light out."

The referee is to be known as the ammeter, the umpire as the battery charger, and the head linesman will correspond to the title of the switch. Then like a switch he can be pulled out.

Instead of eleven players a football team will be composed of eleven bulbs, with the bright lights in the back field. Plays will be called by lights, red, yellow and green, with traffic officers waiting on the side lines in case the light goes bad.

At least the idea of night football has the merit of being something new and I'm waiting for the opportunity of seeing it worked out.

Nice looking young lady waylaid me this morning before I had got fairly started up the street. In her hand she held a lot of red tags, and no doubt you have one of the tags by now. The New Castle Hospital gets the money. Let's hope they get a substantial sum.

Prof. A. M. Low, of London, who ever he is, tells us that in 4000 A.D. flappers will wear wigs, thick glasses and false teeth. Isn't that interesting? Imagine calling on a flapper and having her take out her teeth for you. Or removing her hair.

Men will be concerned only with thought, so he claims. Probably will be thinking of the days when flappers didn't wear false teeth.

Not a word in two days from the horse shoe pitchers. Must have sprung a lot of charley horses up around the fire station.

Primitive Church Withdraws From Federal Council

Primitive Methodist Church Of America Severs With Federal Council Of Churches

(International News Service) — By a vote of 28-24, the primitive Methodist Church of America, at the eleventh quadrennial conference in session here, withdrew from the federal council of churches. The attitude of Dr. S. Parks Cadman, Dr. Harry E. Fosdick and Bishop Francis J. McConnell, leaders of the council, toward evangelism was held directly responsible for the move.

In summarizing the attitude of the Primitive Methodist church towards evangelism Dr. W. F. Paul, of Plymouth, Mass., said:

"The chief interest of and outstanding factor in Primitive Methodism is evangelism, mass as well as personal evangelism. Yet the federal council throws all its emphasis on social service, open forum, and housing, and very little on evangelism. They emphasize social salvation. We believe in personal salvation, that the church was put in the world and not the world put in the church."

Sessions of the conference will continue tonight and tomorrow. The subject of church union was to be discussed today.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The possibilities of getting killed by an automobile at the present time, is ten per cent greater than a year ago.

This is the assertion of the Safety Committee of the American Motorists' association, which it declares is substantiated by figures of the United States Census Bureau. The figures, just revised, show that the death rate by automobiles for the year ending August 10, 1929 was 24.3 persons per 100,000 population compared with 22.1 per 100,000 population for the previous corresponding year, or an increase of approximately 10 per cent for the 12-month period.

The figures are compiled from mortality statistics of the 78 largest cities of the country, showing that for the year ending August 10 last, the total killed in these 78 cities was 7,986 persons. The total death toll, by automobiles, for the calendar year of 1928, according to the revised figures, for the entire country was 24,932, bringing the grand total killed in this manner during the past 12 years up to 188,313.

Several Bodies Washed Ashore

(International News Service) STOCKHOLM, Sept. 14.—Many bodies of sailors in the uniform of the Soviet navy are being washed ashore upon the Finland coast, according to an unconfirmed report from Helsinki Friday.

It was reported that two destroyers were sunk, but this obviously erroneous report is believed to have arisen from the fact that the Volkoff was formerly known as the Trotsky.

Three Charges Needed To Kill Kentucky Slayer

First Charge Of 2,000 Volts Fails To Kill Condemned Man; Begs For Death

(International News Service) EDDYVILLE, Ky., Sept. 14.—A condemned murderer, whose body leaped forward in the electric chair of the state penitentiary here Friday with more than 2,000 volts surging through him, sighed when the current was shut off and said rather wearily: "Boys, I'm not dead yet."

A few seconds later the current was reapplied and the murderer, Carl Hord, 31, of Louisville, Ky., was killed.

After the heavy charge had been given Hord his body, limp, red and swollen, slumped down in the chair, physicians advanced with stethoscopes in a perfunctory manner. Just as a physician bent over the supposedly dead man, Hord started the grim assemblage with the statement that he was not dead.

Straps were quickly buckled again about the youth's body and two more heavy charges were hurled through his body. Hord was convicted of the murder of Marion George, Louisville, Ky. grocer.

John Russell, 23, of Westport, Ky., died in the electric chair a few minutes later for the murder of John Ditcher, 38, fisherman, of Boyers Landing, Ind.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
114—Nivelle's Offensive Fails

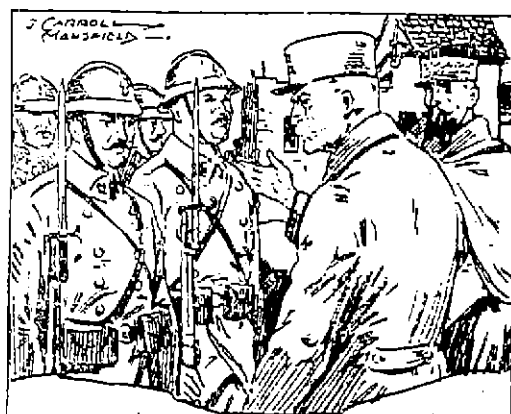

WHILE AMERICA WAS HASTILY ARMING HERSELF FOR WAR, THE FRENCH WERE MEETING WITH SEVERE REVERSES ON THE WESTERN FRONT. IN APRIL, 1917, FOLLOWING THE SUCCESSES OF THE BRITISH AND CANADIANS AT ARRAS AND VIMY RIDGE, GEN. NIVELLE AT LAST LAUNCHED HIS LONG-EXPECTED DRIVE AGAINST THE GERMANS ON A 50-MILE FRONT ALONG THE AISNE BETWEEN SOISSONS AND REIMS.

THE GERMANS WERE WELL PREPARED TO WITHSTAND THE ONSLAUGHT, AND AFTER TWO DAYS OF HARD FIGHTING IT WAS PLAIN THAT NIVELLE'S ATTACK WOULD ONLY END IN DISASTROUS REPULSE. NIVELLE CONTINUED HIS FUTILE ASSAULTS. IN TEN DAYS THE FRENCH CASUALTIES AMOUNTED TO MORE THAN 100,000 MEN, OF WHOM MORE THAN A THIRD WERE KILLED.

MAY 15, 1917, NIVELLE WAS REMOVED, AND PETAIN WAS MADE FRENCH COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF. THE WEARY FRENCH "FOILUS" WERE STUNNED BY THEIR LOSSES AND DISCOURAGED BY THE FAILURE OF THE GREAT DRIVE. A NUMBER OF SERIOUS MUTINIES TOOK PLACE. THE FRENCH SKILFULLY CONCEALED THIS OMINOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS FROM THE ENEMY.

PETAINE AT ONCE BROUGHT THE ILL-FATED CAMPAIGN TO A CLOSE, AND SUCCEEDED IN RESTORING THE CONFIDENCE OF THE TROOPS. HOWEVER, IT WAS NOT UNTIL JUNE THAT THE FRENCH ARMY RECOVERED ITS FORMER MORALE. MEANWHILE, GEN. HAIG AND THE BRITISH KEPT THE GERMANS ENGAGED.

CONTINUED MONDAY.

Belgian Featherweight Champ Meets Kosky

Clash Monday Night In Ten Round Battle

Leo Mozdy And Johnny Martin Meet In Last Six Round Bout; Romeo In Superb Shape For Duffy; Folans Of Beaver Falls Tackles Minter; Sixth And Fifth Ward Welterweights Clash In Opening Bout.

By ED. FRITZ
Fight fans of New Castle and vicinity are preparing to wind their way to Jolly Bowl Monday night to see Willie Mitchell, featherweight champion of Belgium, and Sator Fay Kosky, Chicago, meet in a scheduled 10-round bout. The Belgian and former U. S. 'gob' will arrive in the city tomorrow morning, loosen up at Dime's gym during the afternoon, then rest until they are called to the center of the ring by the referee Monday night. The Belgian has been training under the watchful eye of Gus Wilson, former trainer of Georges Carpentier, while Kosky has been romping in Jim Mullen's training quarters at Chicago. The Belgian has met Harry Forbes, Davy Abad, Al Greenfield, Midget Mike O'Dowd, Al Tripoli and Pete Nebo during his six months stay here. Kosky has been as active as a bee in a buckwheat field since he beat Jackie Dugan. According to the records of both, they're punchers and evenly matched. The Belgian took on Earl Mastro at Chicago, and though he sent Mastro to the floor for a count, lost a close decision. Mastro is rated as being better than Andre Roudis, the champion. Kosky met Eddie Shea, former Shea for a count and got an official draw, though Tom Walsh, his mentor, claims he won.

Moody Returns
Later Mastro and Shea clashed in Chicago and the former was again the winner after a hectic fight which result makes the Belgian and Kosky appear to be about as evenly matched as one could judge. The knockdowns they scored over such formidable opponents and knockouts listed in their records verifies their punching ability and Monday night's grand finale should be a sizzler from start to finish.

After they limber up tomorrow afternoon they will tilt around until Monday morning. They will partake of soft boiled eggs, toast and tea with lemon juice. All fattening foods will be eliminated as they have agreed on 130 pounds and are required to weigh in at that mark or under at three o'clock Monday at the bowl. Should either be overweight he will forfeit $100.

The semi-final will be fought by Leo Mozdy, the Erie flyweight, who has been coming like a flash of lightning. Mozdy recently upset Eddie Hope by dising out a beating to Frisco Grande. Johnny Martin of Columbus is pronounced a rugged, hard hitting flyweight, and Harry Sully, his manager, hopes that he may be able to stop the upward ascent of Mozdy.

Romeo Is Ready
Romeo Paoli of this city, one of the best looking featherweights of this section, says he is in the finest shape of his career and hopes to score a decisive win over Tommy Duffy of Cleveland. Duffy is said to be a rough and ready chap who swings punches from all angles. His Cleveland friends declare he is apt to turn over Romeo at any time during the fight. Romeo doesn't agree to this view.

Roy Minter, conqueror of Long Sing Que, intends to get down to business and cut out his Wolgastian style when he meets Joe Folans in a clash of four rounds at 118 pounds. Young Murphy, a Polish boy from Snake's Rest, will fight Young Ciby, whose right name is Simperton. He is from the fifth ward. It looks as though these lads fighting at 145 pounds, ought to keep the fans on nervous seats with their swings.

It will be the first time a foreign titleholder has appeared in the Jolly Bowl ring and as Kosky, a consistent challenger of Tony Tavera, has been fighting in good style, keenly making every second and apparently is getting somewhere in the fistie realm, as is his opponent, a good-sized crowd is expected to see the bouts, which start at nine o'clock last time.

Ceil Direct Is Indiana Winner

Will Go At Dawson Fair Races During Coming Week

Local horsemen will be much interested in learning that Ceil Direct, which mare won the 2:20 pace at New Castle Fair in three straight heats and has been winning consistently all season, won the 2:18 8000 stake pace at Indiana, Pa., on Thursday. She took the first and third heats of the event.

She made a new official record of 2:08 but was timed in 2:05 1/2 unofficially showing that she is still able to go even faster than the official mark placed on her. She will race in the 2:18 8000 stake pace at Dawson this coming week and should prove a winner.

Ceil Direct is one of the fastest race horses ever owned here and her showing this season is pleasing not only to her owners but to all those interested in horse racing.

Grid Camp Briefs

(International News Service)
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 14. — A scrimmage under game conditions between the tentative Navy varsity and the strong Plebe eleven is scheduled for today. Coach Ingraham has shifted his backfield, replacing Bauer and Clifton with Castree and Antrim.

FARMINGDALE, N. Y., Sept. 14. — At the end of two weeks work Coach Chick Meehan is well pleased with the condition of his New York University football squad. But he warned the men against any feeling of over confidence.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Sept. 14. — Pennsylvania will not have to worry about the center position this year, judging from the early work of Harry (Dixie) Warren. The Louisiana boy has been going strong every day and looks like a capable successor to Leon Westgate 1928's star pivot man.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 14. — Yale's football camp became a scene of action today as the coaches, managers and assistants arrived for work. News that Freddie Locser, star center of last year, has recovered from automobile injuries and will play this year makes Yale's prospects much brighter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14. — Columbia has adopted tough football as a means of improving the backs at broken field running and also to increase the agility of the linemen.

WINDBER, Pa., Sept. 14. — Several hard rains was all the trouble Friday the thirteenth brought to the Pitt Panthers in training here. Long and heavy scrimmages with the freshmen eleven filled the program and Josh Williams and Toby Uans were the star performers of the day. Both made flashy runs at several occasions.

JACKSON'S MILLS, W. Va., Sept. 14. — The hope of West Virginia University's grid eleven received a setback here yesterday when Eddie Stump, star quarterback, was injured in the final scrimmage of the training camp period. He was tackled and thrown to the ground by two other players, and it is feared he sustained a broken shoulder bone. He has been taken to Wheeling for an x-ray to determine the extent of the injury.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14. — Led by the powerful Bill Kucis, the Carnegie Tech eleven yesterday gave the first sign of the strength which the coaches hope will move down a large number of the opposing eleven's plaids outfit has on its 1929 schedule. The next week will show a marked difference in the team, according to the staff composed of Coaches Steffen and Waddell, and it is planned to have the men in the pink of condition two weeks from today when Bethany College will be met at Wheeling, W. Va.

Athletics Need But Two Games

Connie Mack Is Happy As Team Stands In Shadow Of World's Series

CHICAGO CUBS MUST WIN THREE

By HENRY MCLEMORE, International News Service Staff

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Despite his years, Connie Mack is not at all unlike the lad who upon getting a premature glimpse of his sled wanted to take a few rides as Santa made his usual endurance flight.

For Connie, having sneaked a peek at the American league pennant, wants nothing so badly as to drag it out and show it to the neighbors. Therefore he is driving his Athletics at top speed and should have theunting ready for his neighbors early next week. Today the A's need but two games, thanks to a 5 to 2 win over the White Sox yesterday. Al Simmons broke a 2-2 tie in the eighth when he slapped his 30th homer of the season over the right field wall.

Battered for 13 hits but keeping them scattered as a pitcher's sweat-hearts, three Washington pitchers managed to bring the Senators down in front of the Indians 4 to 3.

St. Louis and New York were rained out by a mist. The other two clubs were not scheduled. The idle Yankees pondered, no doubt, on the changes that time brings, for this time last year they were within two games of the flag.

Cubs Need Three.
Being an unexcitable man, Joe McCarthy is allowing his Cubs to take their time in clinching the national race. They lost another to the Phillies, this time 7 to 6. Rogers Hornsby hit his 36th home run. The Cubs still need three games before claiming the pennant.

Six hundred and thirty-nine Cincinnati fans showed their fervish interest in things baseball by being on hand as the Robins took their farewell game of the season with the Reds 4 to 2. Babe Herman shaken from his acrobatics of Thursday was out of the line-up.

The Cards whipped the Braves twice 3-2 and 5-3.

The dash of the Giants to overtake the second-place Pirates struck a snag in the form of rain.

Thousands Seek Series Tickets

One Application For Tickets To Big Games Went Around World With Graf Zeppelin

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Applications for the 40,000 seats to the world series continued to pour into the Cubs office here today, swelling the total received so far well above the 100,000 mark.

More than twice this number will arrive before the series closes next week, according to George Doyle, director of the reserve seat sale.

Some fans framed their ticket requests in poetic lines, others affixed unique decorations to catch the attention of sorters. One confident fan, certain that the world series would be played in Chicago sent his application for seats around the world with Dr. Eckener's Graf Zeppelin.

Robinson Not To Manage Reds

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 14.—Rumors circulated here to the effect that Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, would pilot the Reds in 1930, have been denied by both Robinson and C. J. McDiarmid, president of the Cincinnati club.

The report had its basis in a meeting between the portly Robin boss and the Redleg president yesterday in the latter's office.

New Castle-Westminster Football Teams Prepare For Opening Of Season

Football is about to be reinstated. In less than one week's time, the New Castle High School football team will take the field against Grove City High. And the 1929 season will be ushered in. Friday, September 20, has been designated as opening day in this city.

Westminster College, with a fighting team will travel the long road to New York one week later to tackle Fordham College in the opening setto.

Thus, New Castle's two leading football machines will be off on another campaign. Whether or not any championships are lurking in the distance is a matter of conjecture.

New Castle High is going to spring a new one this year in "night football". Other schools, not particularly high schools, but colleges, have tried out "night football" and found it to be a success, it is stated.

The red and black team this season is going to be a good one. At the outset of the year, the situation couldn't command a lot of optimism, but with three weeks practice the boys are looking better every day. You can rely on the "Old Fox" to bring out a winning combination. New Castle High will have plenty to show the fans next Friday.

Joe Hartman is training a large squad at Grove City. Hartman has a knack of turning out good teams, with very little material to work with. The Grove City boys always give New Castle a tussle. The New Castle-Grove City game is a good opener.

McDonald busy
Andy McDonald, the energetic graduate manager at Westminster College is a busy man these days. There is a lot of work connected with handling the business affairs of a football team. Andy found that out several years back. Right now, McDonald is bending his efforts toward smoothing out the coming New York trip. The United Presbyterian graders are scheduled for the "big time" on the Saturday of September 28. Fordham College will entertain the New Westminster boys.

Coach Dyke Beede and his able assistant Johnny Lawther are bending every effort toward a formidable machine to take to the Metropolis. A good showing by Westminster in the Fordham game is desired. Just what kind of stuff he has this year will be made known to Coach Beede when he sends his husky bunch to battle the Fordhamites.

Reports from New York say that Fordham will have practically a veteran team this season, all of which means that Westminster is due for a mean struggle. The material at United Presbyterian school this year is about the best that it has ever been. Beede is well pleased with the squad.

Hope To Untangle Heavyweight Mess

Seek Winner Of Loughran Sharkey Bout To Meet Campolo-Scott Winner For Title

New York Fight Fans Excited Over Idea Of Trying To Crown New Champion

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—They were talking up a fight between the survivors of the Campolo-Scott and Loughran-Sharkey meetings today, a sort of a consolidation of interests combining the best features of both, and before the unnecessary details were long in the process of discussion they had the heavyweight championship and the Muldoon-Tunney trophy out there on the table like a couple of wedding presents. The proposal, briefly, was this:

The winner of the first fight to meet the winner of the second, thus increasing everybody's chances of seeing one prize fight before the end of the winter.

The major receipts to go to the Jewish Palestine relief fund and in order to be certain that there would be no major receipts, each ringside patron be tapped for 100 bills in the most genteel manner imaginable.

October Date.
The fighters to shoot for a million dollar purse but not in money. Their bait will be the heavyweight title and the Muldoon-Tunney trophy, provided the self-appointed custodians of both can take their minds off their fingernails.

With Mayor Walker a member of the relief committee and Boxing Chairman Farley picking the charity's fight card, official recognition of the winner does not seem a remote possibility.

The final feature of the proposal calls for an October date and a locale either at Madison Square Garden or Ebbets field, with everybody donating.

Everybody Donates.
The Garden, for instance, is donating the Garden, which won't be going anywhere that night, anyhow. Fugazy has offered Ebbets field in the same spirit of lofty purpose.

Campolo has been the most generous. He has donated himself, which makes a man and a half for the price of one admission. Loughran and Sharkey haven't been approached yet but, if they get that title and trophy up there, you couldn't get this pair out with a ball and bat.

Campolo, of course, must lick Scott at Ebbets field next week or he can go donate himself to the commissioners of street cleaning. As for Sharkey and Loughran nobody has any idea what is going to happen when they tangle, if that really is the word. Some indeed hold that absolutely nothing will happen all night long but I notice that they are getting in their reservations, accompanied by very dependable looking money. There is said to be $50,000 in the house already which means that Loughran and Sharkey will play, if that is the word, to more than $225,000.

To Fight For Charity.
This, by the way, will be a prize

Denies Grid Scandal

fight, unless that fall I had on my head at an early age has made a more permanent effect than the doctors expected.

If either of these preceding fights produce the desired effect, the proposed finale will do well above $800,000 at $100 a copy. The charity is a big local enterprise, the fight may be of international interest and, at the kind of money suggested, the Garden is just its size.

There is one sad final thing to be said for this arena. A ringside seat. And at $100 a ticket, a man is inclined to be a little curious about this point, charity or no charity.

Energy-Danceland Play Fourth Game

Umpire Assignments Are Announced By League Commissioner

Fourth game of the series between Danceland and Energy teams for the championship of the City-County league was scheduled to be played this afternoon at Energy.

Energy now has two games to its credit in the series to one for Danceland and each of the teams is confident that today's game will end in a victory for their respective aggregation.

If Energy wins the championship series is over for the present year but should Danceland win it will take the fifth game to decide the league championship.

The fifth game if necessary, will be played on Saturday September 21. It was announced by the league commissioner today. The place that it is to be played will be announced later.

The game this afternoon at Energy starts by order of the commission at 3:15 p. m. The umpire assignment announced by the commission will be as follows: Sam Dominie, umpire-in-chief, and behind the bat; Evans at first base and Hogue at third base.

The contest today weather permitting will be one of the fastest yet played in the series. In case of rain the commission announces that it will be played one week later at the same place.

Soccer Team To Be Reorganized Here

The New Castle Soccer club will be reorganized here, it was announced today. The initial meeting of the year will be held at the Y. M. C. C. on Monday night, at 7:30 o'clock. All soccer players and fans interested in the formation of a last New Castle team are asked to be present.

The locals have been asked to join the eight-team Beaver Valley League this year and chances are that the New Castle men will accept, if enough interest is shown.

Segrave Fails In Speed Boat Test

VENICE, Sept. 14.—Major Sir Henry Segrave, holder of the world's automobile speed record, made an unsuccessful attempt today to lower the speedboat record of 83.1 miles an hour held by Gar Wood.

After achieving 84.05 miles an hour on his first run the propeller of Segrave's fleet craft broke, necessitating his withdrawal from the race.

Tilden-Hunter In Title Play

Bill Tilden And Francis Hunter Battle For National Singles Title Today

By MALCOLM ROY, International News Service Special Correspondent

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 14.—These two veterans who together have chased the elusive volley and the cautious lob over many a different court in many a varied climate will today face each other in the stadium here to settle the 1929 residency of the men's national tennis championship.

These two veterans are the last remaining remnants of the unprecedented field of ninety which one week ago today started out in quest of tennis's golden fleece. And both deserve tributes for the stout-heartedness that brought them through a series of stirring battles with the best tennis youth of this country.

Tilden Favored
Tilden is heavily favored to smash Hunter and regain the title that was relinquished by Henri Cochet, ball boy of Lyons, France. Today's final marks the tenth in which Big Bill has participated and the second for Hunter. It is only natural that the heavy Philadelphia should rule favorite for all their meetings. Hunter has yet to topple him. Victory for Tilden will make him seven holder of the national title.

Both finalists had a rather tough struggles before coming through to the concluding bracket. Tilden turning back the challenge of Johnny Hope Doeg of Santa Monica by the score of 6-4, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, while Hunter humbled Fritz Maerck of Bethlehem, Pa., 6-4, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3.

Two Are Killed As Trains Crash

Big Freight Train And Two Locomotives Crash Head-On;
Three Seriously Hurt

(International News Service)
ANDOVER, Mass., Sept. 14.—A head-on collision between a 95-car freight train and two locomotives resulting in the death of two men and serious injury to three others.

The two locomotives were thrown off the tracks. The locomotive of the freight train was crushed and also left the rails.

The freight train was carrying a load of lumber and other material.
The collision occurred near the town of Andover, Mass.

The two locomotives were from different companies and were traveling in opposite directions. The collision was the result of a miscommunication between the engineers.

The bodies of the two men who were killed were found near the crash site. The three seriously injured men are being treated at a local hospital.

Why Oakland is unrivalled in per- formance at its price

The following facts were obtained from a comparison of the Oakland All-American Six with 20 other medium-priced automobiles. All told, 878 individual comparisons were made.
Of these, Oakland proved to be distinctly superior in 451 or 51.37 per cent. The 20 cars combined were at best equal to Oakland on 382 or 43.50 per cent. And 13 of the 20 were higher-priced than Oakland!

PISTON DISPLACEMENT

Oakland's 228-cubic-inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 20 cars in its price field.
Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are higher priced than Oakland.

RUBBER ENGINE MOUNTING

Only Oakland in the entire field employs rubber "biscuit" insu-lators. While others claim rubber mountings, none offers such resilience and permanent freedom from vibration as Oakland.

HARMONIC BALANCER

Only Oakland and one other car in the field have the Harmonic Balancer. Of 13 cars using some other device, 11 are higher-priced than Oakland.
Oakland's crankshaft is fully counterweighted. The crank-shafts in nine higher-priced cars are not counterweighted.

CRANKCASE VENTILATION

While most cars in the field have crankcase ventilation, only Oakland and one other, according to available information, have any method for cleaning the air. Six have not, although three of the six are higher-priced than Oakland.

CROSS-FLOW RADIATOR

Only Oakland in the entire field has the Cross-Flow Radiator or anything similar to it.
All other cars use the down-flow radiator, this despite the fact that 13 of the 20 are higher-priced than Oakland.

BRAKES

Only Oakland and one other car in its field use the fine type of brakes which Oakland employs.
And no car in the field equals Oakland's 290 square inches of brake band area. Oakland's separate emergency brake operates on the transmission. Seven cars in the field have no separate emergency brakes.

Roy Norton is preparing for the grid

America's finest medium-priced automobile and learn what a difference there is

Nowhere is the impressive superiority of today's Oakland All-American Six more clearly revealed than in the remarkable performance which this greatest of all Oakland's delivers.

Oakland's engine has the large piston displacement necessary in developing high power at the moderate engine speed essential to long life—the non-detonating type of cylinder head required for high compression performance with ordinary gasoline—the Harmonic Balancer to neutralize torsional vibration in the crankshaft—rubber "biscuit" mountings to insulate it from the frame and make it incomparably smooth and free from vibration. Under the hood and throughout the chassis are many additional engineering advancements, all of which contribute to make today's Oakland America's finest medium-priced automobile.

Oakland All-American Six, $1145 to $1775, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Spring energy and Lowey Hydraulic Shock Absorbers included in its price. Bumpers and rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland Pontiac, delivered price includes only authorized charges for freight and delivery and the charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

Upward Trend Today On Stock Exchange

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Morgan City stocks, including United Corporation, United Gas Improvement and Niagara Hudson on the curb were leaders in an upward movement of prices at the week-end, following reports of the acquisition by the Niagara Hudson Company of the frontier corporation with 2,400,000 potential horsepower capacity.

United Corporation, the Morgan-Drexel-Bonbright $200,000,000 utility holding corporation forged ahead to around 71 on an extremely heavy turnover, with buying demand flowing in from western speculative centers. United Gas Improvement advanced to above 55 and Utilities Power and Light rose a point and Consolidated Gas was in good demand at 163 1/2.

Reports Favorable
The week-end business and trade reports were generally favorable, many of the fall lines having struck a stride with the coming of the cold weather and the opening of schools. Steel Mills in the interior points are maintaining their high operating rates, and copper trade holds an excellent promise for the last quarter of the year.

Considerable irregularity developed in the second hour among the high-priced industrials and specialties which led Friday's late rally. Columbia Gas and Electric lost about 6 points at 110 1/2. May department stores shrank 5 points from Friday's peak. Standard Oil of New Jersey staged a come-back in this period, with a 2-point jump to 79 1/2, but the oil as a group showed a little spirit and sold in small volume in a narrow price range.

Baltimore and Ohio's new rise to 145, the highest price in the history of that 100-year-old road, was the feature of the rail shares, and reflected confidence in the marking up of the dividend rate to 7 per cent before the end of the year. The road is earning at the rate of $14 a share, double the requirements of a $7 dividend. New York Central advanced 2 1/2 to 240 in a brisk market.

The week-end market was unusually dull, compared the last three or four of its predecessors and Wall Street wondered whether this was the lull before the storm, or the entrance to another wild upward market.

International Nickel staged a strong rally move and sold up 3 1/2 at 58 1/2. Columbia Gas and May department stores had the shorts worrying when prices snapped back briskly. "Market order" for 1,000 shares of May was filled at prices ranging from 94 to 99, an evidence of the small floating supply of the stock.

The week-end commodity markets were irregular, with wheat off a cent a bushel, corn down fractionally and cotton off a few points.

States War On Defective Cars

Pennsylvania And New Jersey Demand Rigid Inspection Of Automobiles

After several months of preliminary work Honorable Benjamin C. Eynon, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of the State of Pennsylvania and Honorable William L. Dill, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of the State of New Jersey have joined forces for the purpose of holding an inspection of motor vehicle equipment. Inspection work in Pennsylvania will be carried on from October 1, 1929 to November 15, 1929 while New Jersey will inspect only during the month of October, 1929.

It has been arranged by the two commissioners to cause the State Highway Patrol of the State of Pennsylvania to interrogate New Jersey drivers who do not bear upon the windshield the official inspection sticker while the inspectors of the motor vehicle department of New Jersey will examine every Pennsylvania car operating in New Jersey after October 31st that does not evidence the same has been inspected in Pennsylvania during the period.

Many Cars Unfit. Both states conducted similar campaigns in 1928. In Pennsylvania 723,432 motor vehicles were reported as having been inspected, or 45 percent of the total cars and trucks registered. Of this number 303,180 were found to be in good condition and adjustments were necessary on 420,252 machines. In other words 58 percent of the vehicles examined were not mechanically fit. During the inspection month of September 1928 in the state of New Jersey 549,062 motor vehicles were inspected which number is approximately 71 percent of the total registration for the year, 873,449 of the cars thus inspected had defective brakes and 91,439 were operating with headlamps that needed adjustment or repair.

The TOWN DOCTOR

(The Doctor of Towns)

Says:

DON'T CONFUSE CIVIC LOYALTY WITH GOOD BUSINESS. Maybe you have a perfect right to feel that your local merchants are behind times in the way they do things and the merchandise they carry, but are you doing anything to help change the situation? "Not my lookout," you say—well, let's consider it in this way:

If, in your estimation, your stores and merchants are poor, it is not going to make them any better for you to tell everybody about it, and when you are in need of something to buy it, you go to a peddler, or go to some other town. On the other hand, if you will give your local merchants a break, and offer to buy from them you will be performing not only a service to your community, a good turn to your fellow citizen, but you will be doing yourself a favor. This isn't a matter of community boosting or civic loyalty or civic welfare—it is purely a matter of good business—mighty good business on your part.

If you live in a town—you, or those who provide your livelihood, are in business or they at least earn a living in the community. If you own real estate, there is that much more reason why you should go out of your way to see to it that your community gets all the business possible, but you don't have to own two or three store buildings, a house and lot, or be a stock holder in a bank, in order that it pay you a profit. Therefore, it is not only your duty, but it is your business to see to it that the community gets all the business from yourself and everyone else you can influence; also, it is your business to see to it that your town is not looked down upon, as it surely will be, if its stores are behind the times.

But it is far to one that your stores are not as poor as lots of people think them to be. Your stores can supply you with most anything that you may want to purchase. In this day and age of standardized merchandising, with present distribution system, any merchant can take care of your wants, if he wants to. Of course, if your merchants really are so far behind the times, or lack gumption enough to supply your needs and likes—that is different.

All of this is said with the full realization, that there are still some "store keepers," running "supply depots," who have "clerks" instead of "sales people." But you are responsible if you have good stores or poor ones. If you continually refuse to give your merchants first opportunity to supply your wants, continually buy from outside, you turn yourself into a walking, talking advertisement for a bum town, and who wants to live and have other people know that they live in a dead community?

Also, if you live in the town, especially in a small city, your social life brings you in contact with your fellow citizens, you associate with them; and can you really feel just right in socially fraternizing with them, when you know that you are not giving them a fair shake? Put yourself in their position—just what would you do?

And as a tip to merchants let me add—Business goes where it is invited and stays and comes back to the place where it is well treated and served best.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14, 1929.—During balance of month storm waves are expected to increase in force as they reach eastern part of Great Central valleys, causing most severe storms and greatest precipitation to occur in east half of continent. Average temperature expected to be above normal to near 25 below normal from near 25 to end of month. Storm wave of mild intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on 19; this storm wave will cause a general warm wave over continent, averaging considerably above normal temperatures, but precipitation will be decreasing during this period and will occur mostly in east half of continent. Autumn officially starts on September 23 at 12 o'clock and 23 relative Greenwich Civil time. I would advise that all possible fall work be done before that date; not that this man-made date has anything to do with anything other than the official time for the change of seasons, but that I do expect storm force, precipitation, low temperatures and other weather features that tend to make conditions that do not agree with outdoor work to be present in greater force during two weeks following September 24. Most severe storms occur near the equinoxes, the relative position of sun and earth that changes summer to fall and spring to summer, the two days of the year when days and nights are of equal length at the equator, as the sun travels directly over the equator on those days. Such dates or positions have no direct influence upon atmospheric changes within the earth's envelope, as I will discuss later.

Charted monthly temperature forecasts "B" covers a very large area, including sections one and three of my map of weather sections; many readers have requested that such forecasts be made for an area that would apply more specifically to their farm, city or back yard, but this cannot be done. Such a forecast would mean a guess that the individual could make as well or better than I could. In the northern Great Central valleys, the area under discussion, the only meteorological records of sufficient length for my use are located in the eastern part, such as Winnipeg, St. Paul, Chicago, St. Louis, etc. These stations, the records for which are used in making forecasts for northern Great Central valleys, are within miles of 90th meridian; there are no dependable records in western part of Great Central valleys that go back 75 years or more; therefore, the only practical method I have found is to forecast temperature changes for the 90th meridian and let those who are interested in changes between 90th meridian and Rockies estimate how long beforehand to expect such changes at their location. Instructions for such estimates are frequently given in these bulletins. Precipitation, severe storm movements are forecasted by an entirely different method, a method that does not require so long a record of meteorological events.
